

IFIASA

Ideas Forum International Academic and Scientific Association

Symbol and Reality- 7th MCDSARE Conference - IFIASA 2022

Keynote Speaker,
Session 2nd | 30th June 2022!

Biographical note :

Prof. Dr. Jacques COULARDEAU

He was educated at University Michel de Montaigne Bordeaux III, University of California at Davis California, and University Charles de Gaulle Lille III in general structural linguistics, phylogenic linguistics, and Germanic linguistics. He was a visiting lecturer in UC Davis, U. Bordeaux III, U. Lille III, Buddhist Center at Pidurangala Sri Lanka, U. Perpignan at Mende, U. Paris II Panthéon Assas, U. Paris I Panthéon Sorbonne, U. Paris Dauphine, U. Paris Est Créteil Val de Marne, U. Versailles Saint Quentin en Yvelines at Mantes la Jolie, U. Paris VIII Vincennes Saint-Denis. He holds two Ph.D. in Germanic linguistics and in Didactics of Foreign Languages. His research has been essentially in linguistics, in English and American literature and arts, in drama, opera, and cinema. In 2003 he entered the field of Buddhism and Pāli linguistics and went back to phylogenic linguistics with his present research on the Language of Cro-Magnon and the relations between the phylogeny of language, the migrations of Homo Sapiens out of Black Africa, and the classification of languages. He is often working with younger assistants for various projects, among others Paula Osorio from Venezuela and Ivan Eve from Paris Sorbonne. He has taken part and presented contributions in many international conferences in Europe and Northern America. He is vastly published in the USA, in Europe, in New Zealand, and on the Internet as a researcher, a reviewer on the various Amazon sites, as a research and literary author at Amazon Kindle Direct Publishing, and as an independent researcher at www.academia.edu or https://www.researchgate.net/profile/Jacques_Coulardeau. He is a content writer on Medium.com at <https://jacquescoulardeau.medium.com/>.

©IFIASA2022