Announcements (COVID-19)

COVID-19 Update

We are with everyone in fighting the COVID-19 pandemic. In keeping with IFIASA's spirit of connecting people through conferences to assist global, interdisciplinary collaborations, our conferences until the end of October have gone online while members and participants are unable to travel freely.

For those unable to travel due to coronavirus restrictions, ALL IFIASA conferences offer both Video-Stream Presentation and pre-recorded Virtual Presentation options.

What does this mean?

Instead of us meeting at a physical location this year for our Annual Conference which had been previously planned for Targoviste, we will now hold the Conference completely virtually and online. No travel, fewer obstacles, and more opportunities.

Save the date!

The Conference will remain the same, 27th october 2020.

The public health and safety of our attendees, exhibitors, speakers, staff and most importantly the high-risk population that is counting on IFIASA during this uncertain time and always, led us to conclude that cancelling our annual face-to-face meeting was the responsible and necessary action to take .
